

Community Conversations on Digital Television: Get Ready!

Tuesday November 6, 2008
6:30 – 8 pm
Town of Marana Council Chambers

Free and open to the public. All are encouraged to attend. Bilingual information will also be available at that meeting. Applications for converter box coupons will be available.

On February 17, 2009 the way we all see television will change forever. On that date, all television stations will make the federally-mandated switch to digital broadcasting. That means exciting changes in all the options available to you through both paid and free TV- but your television must be ready. Join the team from Arizona Public Media and other invited guests to walk you through these changes and answer your questions. Additional information on the digital transition is available at www.AZpublicmedia.org.
